

Dear Supporting partners and friends

Succession planning for our
Executive Director

All who are interested or involved with Brass Tacks know of the great service undertaken by our Executive Director, Colin Breeze. Colin Breeze became Executive Director in 1986. He works from his home/office on the Wirral and organises the projects in conjunction with the local missionaries ensuring that the requirement is understood, the right team is sent and the materials are in the right place at the right time. Each week Colin deals with dozens of calls and emails ranging from travel tickets to vehicle parts, from building design to bath taps.

One of our biggest challenges is to find someone to carry on the role when he retires in 2012. We thank God that He is in control of decisions. We believe that right now God knows the outcome of this search. He knows who and how and where our need will be met. That does not relieve us of responsibility in the matter. Will you join with us not only in prayer but in active consideration of how the answer might be made known. The person who will answer this call will have a vision for mission and awareness of the missionary support network, gifts of leadership and people skills, technical knowledge and organisational and administrative skills. It may be that the requirements are shared by two people. It may even be that those two are married to each other. Any thoughts on the answer to our need are welcomed, especially from those who before the Lord feel that they meet the requirements.

If you need to know more about what is involved in the role, please feel free to speak with Colin. His number is 0151 630 1182. If you are interested in being considered for the role or you know someone whom you think is suitable, please speak with Denis Cooper, Trust Chair on 07768 743194.

Yours in Christ Jesus on behalf of the Trustees
